Advance Notice

Solihull CAMRA Beer & Cider Festival 2023

This is a slight departure from previous festivals where we have opened on the Thursday evening and closed on Saturday night.

We will have somewhere in the region of 40 + real ales and 6 ciders/perries. Paul Wigley will again be undertaking the choice of and ordering for these and, having previous festivals to go on, we know the selection will be both interesting and varied.

For anyone reading this who'd like to give their business a mention, it would be great to have you as a sponsor and to see your name in print. That could be sponsoring a cask of beer/cider or advertising in our festival programme. Anyone wishing to do so or who wants to discuss other possibilities should contact the festival organiser (our branch chair) Martin Buck on chair@solihull.camra.org.uk.

We are pleased to give you all advance notice of our beer and cider festival in October this year. Details are still being finalised, so do please keep an eye on our website (<https://solihull.camra.org.uk>) and look out for our September edition of the Solihull Drinker for up-to-date information.

The festival will take place from Friday 13 to Sunday 15 October 2023.

We look forward to welcoming you all.

Comedy for Cancer Research

According to Cancer Research UK, around one in two of us will be diagnosed with cancer at some point in our lifetime. That is a grim statistic and means most of us likely know someone with or who has died from cancer.

Ultra Comedy Birmingham are raising money for Cancer Research UK by training up budding comedians, giving them 8 weeks of FREE training from a professional comic to prepare them to perform, live on stage, in front of an audience on Sunday 25 June 2023 at the home of Just The Tonic Comedy Club, Rosies (259-262 Broad St, Birmingham B1 2HF), with the show starting at 3.30pm.

Our very own Ian Hunter has bravely stepped up to take part.

So far, he's met 16 of the other trainee comedians, ranging from Serbian Steel, a professional wrestler who doubles as a reporter, through some actors and a private school teacher who supports the Villa (is that the comic bit? Apologies to all Villeins - other football teams are available!).

Ian is using this opportunity not just to perform as a real stand-up comedian, but to do something he'll never forget and raise loads of money for a great cause! He will perform using his own material in a set roughly 7 minutes long.

Anyone who'd like to support Ian in person by buying tickets (£25 each) for the event can do so online, at: <https://www.ultratickets.co.uk/events/ultra-comedy-birmingham-25-06-2023/>

Purchasers will be asked "who are you coming to support" and should put Ian Hunter's name in that section.

I'm told that tickets always sell out quickly for these shows so do make sure you get yours early. No tickets will be available to buy on the door. All tickets are non-refundable and non-transferable.

And if you can't make it but would still like to donate to this very worthwhile cause then you can do so via Ian's JustGiving website https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/ian-hunter23?utm\_source=whatsapp&utm\_medium=fundraising&utm\_content=ian-hunter23&utm\_campaign=pfp-whatsapp&utm\_term=fadbd672a260475cb0b383fd46f40458

Remember laughter is the greatest tonic, or is that medicine...

Sheffield weekend part 2

Friday saw us sampling the pubs of the Kelham Island area, starting at the Ship Inn which has a superb, tiled façade (pictured below). Perhaps a little nondescript on the inside (pictured right) but it can have some good beers. I settled for Little Critters #16 Pineapple American Wheat. I was a little suspect of the wheat content, but it was a pleasant enough fruity beer.

Over the road from the Ship is the Wellington. A traditional pub with a virtually intact interior split into three rooms. The big draw here are Neepsend beers (3 on at the visit), in fact you could consider it the Neepsend tap. I tried the Phar Lap a Neepsend New Zealand/Australian Pale with Motueka and Viv Secret hops and was not disappointed!

We couldn't tarry as we had a full schedule today so off to the Gardeners Rest. Six beers and a pear cider, with the pub being run by the local Community Society. It usually has a representative selection of Sheffield Brewery beers, but brewing was suspended at the time of our visit. Of the 6 beers on I chose Durham Magus, which came in as a resounding four out of five (NBSS scoring system) having a strong British hop flavour. The pub is light and airy with a large extension overlooking the, well what can I call it, unusual garden overlooking the River Don.

On leaving we noticed the imminent opening of another pub by the Heist Brewery Company. We took a look and saw the brewing kit (pictured right) but were told craft beers would be the agenda with the possibility of occasional cask ale. We backed away and wandered up to Alder the Sheffield Brewery tap. The brewery and tap are in the same building, an old polish factory, and we saw the brewing equipment mothballed in the bar area. A strong showing of Rudgate here, and I had the low gravity Jorvik Blonde.

Moving on into the heart of Kelham Island we stopped off at Salt, a favourite pub for me as it usually has Ossett beers, particularly White Rat, which on this occasion was not up to its usual standard. Salt has been here for some time under various names and is a modern style bar which is owned by Salt Co., which in turn is owned by Ossett so that's a pretty good pedigree.

Now for the two famed Kelham Island pubs - Kelham Island Tavern and Fat Cat. The Kelham Island Tavern has won many CAMRA awards and rightly so. It always has a range of beer styles to suit all tastes. Thirteen beers greeted us accompanied by the friendly Liam behind the bar. My choice was Fell Dark Mild, a very nice 3.7% which went down most agreeably. This is a pub you could spend the evening in but the Fat Cat was calling.

The Fat Cat housed the original Kelham Island Brewery. Pale Rider became a well-favoured beer, so much so that the brewery moved to larger premises but kept the Fat Cat on as the brewery tap. Sadly, Kelham Island closed in May 2022, being subsequently sold to a consortium with brewing recommencing, primarily of Pale Rider. The pub is a superb unspoilt local's pub with many original fittings. Of more importance to us was the range of beers. Crammed into the bar area were eight beers and Nelson Sauvin Pale Ale at 4.6% proved to be my best of the day so far. Of course, Pale Rider was on tap but my opinion is it isn't as good as it used to be.

A short walk brought us to the Harlequin, a pub I missed on my last visit a few months ago. Popular with cider drinkers this open plan pub has a modern interior but is very comfortable. Usually having 5 beers we were greeted by Red Willow, Blue Bee, HQ Brew which is brewed for the Harlequin by its own microbrewery (not on site). Blue Bee Triple Hop for me, not at its best but acceptable.

Coming towards the end of our day we made our way back towards the hotel but not before visiting the busy Shakespeare's Ale and Cider House a former coaching inn. We just about found a seat to enjoy the range of beers supplied by North Riding, Torrside, Imperial, Abbeydale, Red Willow and Black Lodge which unusually was a strong Belgian table beer. My choice was North Ridings Citra, a little medicinal but OK.

We could not pass by the micro, the West Bar Tap housed in a former shop and opened in 2017, opposite, so a quick one here. Simply furnished but comfortable and quite small inside, the bar is squeezed in at the back of the pub. Four handpulls, and I had a most agreeable Lost Industry Pale Ale.

And so we headed back to the hotel and to bed, with anticipation of a good day to be had in Doncaster the next day (Part 3 of this trip will be in the September issue).

Warwick University Real Ale Festival 2023

In February I visited the 43rd Warwick University Real Ale Festival at the Copper Rooms of the students' union. This was a cash only event, with an option to purchase either a ½ or 1 pint festival glass or use the (free) disposable plastic ones. There were no printed programmes but a virtual one accessed via a QR code. This was rather slow to load and tedious to navigate (resulting in complaints, and not just by me!).

This is a large festival for a university, with 4 bars arranged alphabetically by brewery with almost 100 different ales, plus cider, keg and an international bar. The student volunteers were very friendly and helpful and eager to provide samples. Having limited time available I sampled as wide a range as possible, concentrating on less well-known breweries. There was a relatively high proportion of porters and stouts but no milds and only a limited number of traditional bitters. I spoke to the president of the society (and other committee members) who explained that the choice of ales reflected current student tastes.

I started with Brew York's Tonkoko, a milk stout at 4.3% and a bit like drinking a Bounty! Staying with unusual flavours I next had Coach House Banoffee, a golden coloured bitter at 4.2%, rather sweet and yes tasting of banana and toffee. After that assault on the taste buds it was time to try something more traditional in the shape of Woodforde's Nelson's Bitter at 3.8% with a floral, fruit aroma and a citrus, dried fruit finish.

Cask Bar - breweries A to N with Warwick Folk behind

One of the student volunteers encouraged me to sample the Nene Valley Release the Chimps, a gluten free 4.4% IPA bitter. I wasn't put off by the haziness (as one of my colleagues repeatedly says 'never drink with your eyes') and enjoyed the strong hop finish. This was my favourite of the ten ales I tried. Another recommendation was North Riding's 5.5% Walnut Stout, with walnut flavouring - too nutty for my liking.

To clean and invigorate my palate I settled upon Three Blind Mice Lonely Snake, described as a hoppy session pale ale (3.5%), with a citrus, tropical fruit and a hint of pine on the nose. Another brewery that I was unfamiliar with was Shiny, so I tried their Glamour Muscles, unfinned, vegan friendly (and hazy) American 5.3% IPA.

I can never resist a blonde (!) so my next selection was a favourite of mine, Salopian Lemon Dream (4.5%) full of zesty aromas and a citrus filled fruity finish. Staying on the blonde theme I moved onto Blue Monkey BG Sips (4.0%), another favourite, with a floral, crisp aroma and zesty taste. Finally Froth Blowers Gollop with Zest, a 4.5% golden ale that is triple hopped and an excellent hop finish.

Cask Bar - "W" breweries

Just as I was leaving the festival for the bus I noticed Fownes King Korvak's Saga Porter (a regular West Midlands CAMRA gold medal winner) in the porter category and having missed it at several previous festivals decided the bus could wait - it was well worth missing the bus!

The Inn Sign Society - Save Our Inn Signs

Founded in 1990, the Inn Sign Society raises awareness of the nation's pub signs and compiles a record for the benefit of future generations. Many pub names have links with events from the past or personalities of national and local importance, and the Society provides a forum for members to research the history of inns and pub names.

It has an active web site and a quarterly full colour journal to which members are encouraged to submit articles, pictures of pub signs and news from their areas.

As inns and pubs close at an alarming rate, much local heritage is in danger of being lost forever. Pubs are not just a place to enjoy a drink, they are often at the heart of the community and can reflect its history.

Many members take a general interest in all signs, with some specialising in particular breweries, counties, aircraft or railways, to name but a few.

The local Midlands Group meets three or four times a year at the Mare & Colt, near Kidderminster, to enjoy a lunch followed by a slideshow of pub signs.

The Inn Sign Society is seeking to recruit more members and bring in new blood to help continue the good work done over the last 32 years. For more information, including on how to join, see the website at www.innsignsociety.com

If the Inn Sign Society doesn't research, capture and save our pub sign heritage, perhaps no-one else will.

County Pub Of The Year (POTY) Judging

Pubs of all sizes and locations, where everyone is made to feel welcome, can be considered for POTY. CAMRA applies the following checklist to help judges with consistency. I find it helpful when rating what can be quite dissimilar pubs

Category 1 – quality & condition of real ale/cider/perry

Quality and condition are important, not the number available. Consider: is it stale, is it too warm or too cold, and does it taste right for the style. Personal tastes for particular styles must be ignored.

Category 2 – promotion & knowledge of real ale

Is there clear & obvious support & promotion of real ale (real cider / perry)? Eg: meet the brewer (cider maker), beer festivals, & trips to breweries (cider producers) or other festivals. Staff should enthusiastically promote real ale (real cider / perry) & be able to answer simple queries in relation to these products. The provision of information on products, producers, suppliers, etc. is desirable.

Category 3 – cleanliness & staff hygiene

Toilets should be hygienic & clean with hot water, soap, suitable hand drying facilities etc.. The pub should be clean throughout, including bar tops, tables and glasses. Staff should observe good hygiene practices, eg correct handling of glasses, not eating behind the bar, clean hands and surfaces regularly etc..

Category 4 – community focus & atmosphere

There should be a sense of community that is inclusive and welcoming to all age groups and sectors. Do regulars interact well with strangers? There should be support for local activities, such as sports teams, local groups, and local celebrations. Is there a notice board that lists events, activities, or information on the local area? Is there a friendly atmosphere
Considering the time and day of the week, is it busy enough to create a good atmosphere?

Category 5 – service, welcome & offering

All should be welcome, & no offence caused to any part of society. This includes websites & other aspects of social media. Service should be welcoming, friendly, polite, and also prompt whenever possible. If it is busy, a friendly acknowledgement of your presence is desirable. If a number of real ales are available a range of styles and strengths should be offered and a local product, where available. Are other products/services that may enhance a visit available, such as quality soft drinks?

Category 6 – style, décor & furnishing

Should be a comfortable, pleasant & safe environment throughout. The style should show respect for the building & the décor should enhance it. Furnishing should be in a good state of repair.

Category 7 – sympathy with CAMRA'S aims

Prices & opening hours should be clearly displayed, & get a full measure or a top up without asking. Are oversized glasses used? Are there attempts to stimulate interest in CAMRA issues? Real ale, cider/perry should not be sold using misleading dispense & it should be clear who has brewed 'house branded' drinks. Should not be any inappropriate noisy amusement machines. Real ales should not be served through tight sparklers unless brewed to be sold that way.

Category 8 – overall impression & value

This category covers undefined elements not considered elsewhere. Did you enjoy the visit, spend more time than expected or wish you were able to stay longer/look forward to a return visit? Taking into account the style of establishment & its location, did you feel you received reasonable value for money? CAMRA discounts should not influence this.

Hail to the Ale

This is the section where we update you on news related to pubs, clubs, off licences or breweries in our area. We rely heavily on you, our readers, to keep us updated so, as always, if you hear of anything you feel we or our wider branch should know about then please drop us a line at pubs@solihull.camra.org.uk

The Crabmill at Preston Bagot remains closed and owners, Brunning & Price have indicated they will not be reopening it but will likely sell it off. A local Community Action Group has been set up to oppose this and we have put them in touch with Paul Ainsworth, CAMRA National Planning Policy Advisor, as they are seeking to achieve ACV (Asset of Community Value) status for the site. As our guidance seems aimed at pubs that are still open, we felt Paul would give the best advice to the group.

Anyone wishing to support the group could do so by visiting the change.org website at <https://chnng.it/GYNgLyDydB>

Knowle and Dorridge Racquets Club (see advert page 16) has recently taken the decision to open the bar to all. Just turn up and ring the bell and they will let you in. Two well-kept ales at all times, from breweries such as Salopian, Thornbridge, Ossett and Abbeydale and at £3.70 a pint.

The Sharmans Cross in Solihull reopened on 5th May after a short closure for refurbishment.

Soho Tavern (Indian restaurant) has opened on the site of the old

Beeches in Hampton in Arden. They currently have 2 real ales on.

The Winged Spur at Ullenhall appears to be thriving and reports state that they always try to have three ales on, though management will be keeping an eye on quality. If quality dips, they might change to buying in pins to make this possible.

Blossomfield Club now serves a second real ale on a regular basis. They have managed this by buying in pins. Both ales are usually from Greene King.

It's interesting that the Winged Spur and Blossomfield Club have both mentioned pins. These contain 4.5 gallons so it should be easier to sell the ale before it has any chance of losing its condition. I appreciate not all breweries supply pins in their range, and that pins might be more expensive than the 9 gallon firkin, but this could be a useful way for more pubs to keep real ale on, in good condition and provide more variety.

The Lion in Shirley has recently reopened under new management.

Pub of the Year surveys for Warwickshire (Ray Cooke leading) and West Midlands (Martin Buck leading) have been taking place (it's a hard job but someone has to do it) and will be complete by the time you read this. Next stage is then for county POTY to be entered into the regional competition.

Planning Protection for Pubs

This article is from a CAMRA-wide email from Paul Ainsworth, CAMRA National Planning Policy Adviser

In 2017 CAMRA helped win landmark planning protection for pubs in England, with the removal of permitted development rights that had allowed developers to convert or demolish venues without local communities having their say.

Now, this protection is under threat from a new Government proposal that could see developers gain permitted development rights for vacant high street pubs.

Plans for High Street Rental Auctions are designed to bring empty buildings back into use, by letting Councils auction off the lease. These leases would allow pubs to be converted to other uses, divided up into multiple units, or gutted of their bars, cellars or other integral features.

Concerningly, there would be no obligation to reinstate the pub fittings at the end of the lease – in fact developers would be able to apply to make the conversion permanent.

But there's good news.

A small change to these proposals could see pubs keep their planning protection, and benefit from the High Street Rental Auction scheme, meaning community groups across the country would have the chance to save a local pub, while supporting their high streets.

We have already written to the Minister and asked them to ensure that pubs won't lose their hard-won protections. Now I'm asking you to take action as well, by emailing your MP to let them know they need to stand up for pubs and oppose the plans in their current form

This Government proposal will have a huge impact on high street pubs. Whether that impact is regeneration or devastation will depend on our campaigning, so please take part today.

You can find out more here (and follow the link to contact your MP)

Advertise Your Business Here With Us

We distribute to around 80 pubs (and some clubs, restaurants and off licences) around Solihull, and parts of Warwickshire and Birmingham.

This gives you the opportunity to put your business in front of people who are in the habit of visiting pubs and restaurants.

You don't have to be a pub or restaurant to advertise. Any business seeking local reach (tradespeople, take aways, taxi companies etc) could benefit. For further details or information about advertising with us, or to discuss your proposed advert, please contact editor@solihull.camra.org.uk

We offer a 10% discount for advertisements by CAMRA members (membership number required). We also offer a 10% discount for advertisers taking out an advert for 4 consecutive editions (the advert can be amended for each edition).  Campaign for Real Ale

Membership Matters

Some of CAMRA's aims are to see good quality real ale, cider/perry being served in well run thriving pubs and clubs across every community. It does this by encouraging responsible beer drinking and pub going with beer festivals, good pub guides, awards, and by lobbying government for change to support the industry.

In CAMRA there's plenty for everyone, whether you are a dedicated campaigner, a beer or cider connoisseur looking to learn more, or you want to meet up with like-minded people who have a love of real ale or cider in a local pub.

If you are a new member reading this article why not take the plunge and join us at our next branch meeting (dates on page 3), where you will be made very welcome, and don't forget you will receive a free pint courtesy of Solihull CAMRA. All our meetings are held at a local pub serving decent real ale, and possibly cider. The meetings generally only last about an hour where CAMRA business is discussed, but once the meeting is over there is plenty of time for socialising over a pint with fellow CAMRA members.

If you don't fancy joining us for a branch meeting, why not come along on one of our organised social trips using either public transport or minibus. These range from pub crawls, brewery visits, and beer/curry nights. See our website www.solihull.camra.org.uk or the dates in the diary section on page 3.

We recently had a branch social to Walsall where we managed to visit 6 of their branch-listed Good Beer Guide (GBG) pubs. All the pubs in the guide have been surveyed by Walsall CAMRA members to justify their inclusion into the UK's best selling beer guide. If you are a member of our branch you could be recommending a local pub for inclusion in the next edition of the guide, or maybe joining us on one of our organised social events where we mostly visit pubs, clubs and beer festivals outside of the branch boundaries to sample the beers available.

How about having a years' membership - prices of membership start from £28.50 (excellent value at 55p per week). One benefit of joining is £30 worth of real ale/cider vouchers valid at numerous pub company outlets listed on the CAMRA website. You also get a monthly newsletter "What's Brewing" and an award-winning quarterly magazine "Beer" which can be downloaded and read on your PC, Laptop or Tablet. See the article opposite on exploring your membership or visit www.camra.org.uk for a full list of other benefits available.

So come on what are you waiting for - Join up, Join in, Join the Campaign.

Membership Secretary
